Brought to you by WinShape Retreat, the Marriage CoMission and the Center for Relational Leadership

Seminar Instructors include:
Dr. David Ferguson
and the Center for Relational Leadership team
plus special guest... Brian McCoy

Against all odds, McCoy's Building Supply has continued to grow by doing business differently.

"Growing your business and differentiating your brand by building teams who genuinely care for each other (and for their clients and customers) is not for those who are in business to make a fast buck. It takes patience and a long-term commitment, but the results are fulfilling, lasting, and financially profitable."

Brian McCoy is President and CEO of McCoy's Building Supply, a vibrant chain of 84 stores in five states with $600 million in annual sales. He lives in San Marcos, Texas

This conference will help you and your business...

LEARN why customers need more than what you are selling.

MASTER what motivates people to keep coming back to you and your business.

UNDERSTAND how giving is the key to growing!

LEARN when you invest in relationships, performance will follow.

Build a better business by building better relationships!

Develop a business team...

motivated to serve

and committed to perform.

Business As Un-Usual

Many of your customers and clients do business because of relationships. Many customers will only do business with those they know and trust! In this seminar, you will learn how effective relationships can be the key to customer loyalty and maximizing staff productivity.

This conference is for Business Owners, Managers, the Self-Employed, Sales Personnel, Store Operators and Businesspeople in any field.
